Tournament:

This is a catch and release sailfish tournament. The winner will be determined by the highest cumulative total sailfish releases over the three tournament. It is not necessary to bring the fish onboard to count as a release; touching the leader is considered a catch (IGFA rules apply to tackle, line, leader and sportsmanship). Fish brought to the dock do not count. There is no weigh-in; report catches via VHF on the club designated channel. The club channel will be announced at the Captains Meeting.

West Palm Beach is one of the premier sailfish destinations in the world. This is the best opportunity you will have to catch billfish in your own boat. The gulf stream waters run very close to Palm Beach Inlet and the water depth drops quickly once past the reef. It's a short run to productive water. Drifting live bait bridled on a circle hook in 100 to 600 feet of water is the basic technique. Heavy tackle is not needed; 20 to 40 pound test, 60 pound floro leader and a 7/0 circle hook will get you started. Up your odds and dangle live baits from a kite if you feel adventurous.
